NEW OFFICIALS TO TAKE REINS

Harvey Cowing Will Become
Mayor of Rushville
September 1st.

New City Clerk, Marshal and Street Commissioner—"Lid" Goes Down Tighter

There will be a general shaking up of the city officers here on the third of September, which is the first Monday in the month, and one week from next Monday. At that time Frank J. Hall will lay aside his official regalia as mayor of the city, which he has been in name only for the past two years, and Harvey Cowing will leave his buggy store and don the mayor's robes. Mr. Cowing is not saying what he intends to do when he becomes mayor. One thing he means to do is to appoint a marshal. The new law gives him this power and he means to exercise it, and he is going to appoint a man who will help him sit on the lid and see to it that all the laws, especially the liquor laws are obeyed. Although no definite announcements have been made, it is generally understood that William Price, by reason of his efficient service as policeman will get the place. Who the new member of the force succeeding Mr. Price as patrolman will be is not known. There are several good applicants for the place, however. Mayor-elect Cowing will also appoint a fire chief, and it is generally understood that Andrew Stiffler, who has been a member of the fire department for 27 years, will get the place. Mr. Stiffler is now one of the drivers in the department, and acting in both capacities he would be stationed at the Central fire station at all times. This would enable him to give all his attention to the department and raise it to a high standard of efficiency.

Mayor-elect Cowing will appoint Ray Lakin street commissioner, it is understood. Mr. Lakin is the only applicant for the place, it is said. He will make a very competent official and is deserving of the appointment.

City Clerk-elect Grant O. Gregg has, like Mr. Cowing, filed his bond, and qualified for office. He will take up his duties at the same time that the other new officials do. Mr. Gregg has been familiarizing himself with the work and will be ready to run things properly in the beginning.

When Mayor Cowing takes office, the lid in Rushville will go down so tight there can be no tilting for Mr. Cowing has pledged himself to see that the laws are enforced and that the city is given an economical and business-like administration and is the kind of a man who will stand by the pledge. When he goes into office the city will pass almost entirely into Republican control.

THREE ROOSTERS SLAY A FIVE-FOOT BLACK SNAKE

A dispatch from Winamac, Ind., tells of an unusual battle between three roosters and a black snake in which the roosters were victorious.

Hearing an unusual noise in his chicken pen, Lon Hanson, of Starke county, investigated, and found three of his game roosters in desperate combat with a black snake five feet in length. The roosters fought the reptile until they had killed it. Then they strutted around the body crowing lustily.

FORGERIES BY THE WHOLESALE

George Hazzard, Historian, Under Arrest at New Castle

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

New Castle, Ind., Aug. 25.—What appears to have been a huge fraud perpetrated on many people in Henry, Madison, Delaware and other counties has resulted in the arrest of George Hazzard at New Castle on a warrant issued by the prosecutor, charging him with forgery. Hazzard came to this county four years ago from Tacoma, Wash.

Shortly after coming here he announced that he intended to publish a "History of Henry County," and soon began soliciting indorsements for the proposed work. He visited leading business and professional men in every town and city in the county, and also the rural districts, and obtained hundreds of names to a paper which merely indorsed his ability to write a work of this character. The history was published recently in two volumes, and these were distributed throughout the county to men whose names were on the indorsement. Hazzard's agents made deliveries, and in many cases the books were left at the homes during business hours, when the men were at work. In hundreds of instances the books were refused and payment denied, on the ground that the books were not subscribed for. However, Hazzard says he has the names that appeared on the indorsement as subscribers for the books.

It is understood that additional charges of forgery or fraud may be lodged against Hazzard in this and other counties, as he visited numerous former Henry county people in other parts of the state. Hazzard was released on bond signed by Charles S. Hearnly, formerly chairman of the state Republican central committee, and Frank Bundy of New Castle.

10TH ANNUAL REUNION OF THE McCANN FAMILY

The tenth annual reunion of the McCann family took place Thursday at the home of Herbert Taylor, near Yankeetown. Some seventy persons were present from Connersville and Falmouth and vicinity and many distant points. The reunion next year, will be held at the home of Wm. Greenwood, near Lewisville.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Mrs. T. W. Lytle is suffering from tonsilitis.

Miss Stella Downey is sick at her home south of town.

J. M. Amos, living south of town, is suffering from a bilious attack.

Calvin A. Smith is very ill with stomach trouble on North Perkins street.

Workmen excavating for the foundation for the new high school building were compelled this morning, to blow up a number of stumps of trees that once stood in the school house yard.

Since the recent hot weather, it is said that one of the city mail carriers while making one of his trips, actually melted a celluloid collar.

PROPER SPIRIT BEING SHOWN

Brave People of Valparaiso, Preparing to Rebuild their City

Thousands of Workmen are Engaged Clearing Wreckage for Rebuilding

Valparaiso, Aug. 25.—As the result of the splendid courage of the people and with the co-operation of the city government, Valparaiso will be rebuilt within a few years on finer and more beautiful lines than before the disaster of Aug. 16.

The rain last night caused most of the people to desert the tents which they have occupied since the earthquake and return to their homes. Almost all the walls are cracked, but there were no violent earth tremors during the night or today. Many of the people had to walk long distances, carrying their bedclothes on their shoulders.

There are no conflagrations, but the blowing up of damaged and dangerous structures with dynamite continues and loud explosions are frequently heard. Otherwise the town has assumed an almost normal appearance. Many business houses have been reopened.

As a result of the strong measures taken to preserve order at least 150 robbers have already been shot. Bodies are still being taken out of the ruins, and thus far 1,000 have been buried. About 10,000 workmen are employed in clearing away the ruins and in searching for bodies. In the wreckage of a house workmen yesterday found a child alive in a barrel, which had protected it from harm.

The sale of articles of food is strictly supervised by the city and government officials, to prevent any abuses in the direction of increases in prices. Merchants detected in the act of selling food above the fixed prices are compelled to close their stores. In order to guard the people as much as possible from suffering during the heavy rains a complete drainage system has been constructed at all the spots where the population is living in tents. President Riesco has visited all the tented parts of the city in his efforts to do everything here to encourage the homeless people.

The commercial houses and the banks have decided to pay their employees their full month's wages to assist them in their present hardships. The government will also pay its employees. In different parts of the city depots for the distribution of food have been established, the main features of which are immense cauldrons from which, under the supervision of young women of the highest society in Valparaiso, soup is distributed to the poor.

Many of the best families of this city have decided to go to Europe and stay there during the rebuilding of Valparaiso. Materials for the construction of temporary houses or sheds are being distributed gratis by the local and government authorities.

LIGHTNING DOES SOME DAMAGE

Bolt Strikes Amphitheatre at Fairgrounds—Jerry Walker Knocked Down.

A light rain accompanied by much lightning and thunder visited this locality last night. Lightning played along the telephone line and Jerry Walker, while crossing Third street to Main, was knocked down and slightly stunned. A heavy rain fell this afternoon. Lightning struck the grand stand at the fair grounds last night and did about $25 worth of damage.

Willie Bebout will have charge of the check room at the fair grounds this year.

Peaches are rapidly disappearing from the local market.

Dr. F. R. McClanahan will spend Sunday with his father at Deputy, Ind.

SPEECH SIMILAR TO A PULPIT TALK

A dispatch from Anderson to the Indianapolis News says: "When he delivered an address at the Sunday school convention at Ingalls, Thursday afternoon, Congressman Watson disappointed several politicians, who expected to hear the 'Whip of the House' touch at least upon his open letter from President Roosevelt, and perhaps, make some reference to his great friend, 'Uncle Joe' Cannon. Instead of giving his address any political color, Congressman Watson delivered a talk regarded as fit for a sermon from a pulpit. He discussed great forces, all of which, he said, were founded upon religion, and he exhorted Sunday schools much as a minister of the gospel might do.

THEY MUST GO IT ALL ALONE

Rural Mail Carriers Will Not Be Allowed to Carry Passengers.

Postoffice Inspector A. R. Holmes, who has supervision of the rural free delivery in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, has received from headquarters an order that will not be welcomed by the families and friends of rural letter carriers, and which will be promulgated at once. Rural carriers, it appears have been making a practice of carrying in their conveyances while on their routes members of their families or other relatives or friends on the plea that they were in need of the open air because of their ill health. The rule of the Postoffice Department has been that no one except postoffice inspectors or other authorized agents of the Postoffice Department shall be permitted to accompany letter carriers while at work. The department has in the past relaxed somewhat when application was made for permission to let some convalescing patient make the journey with the carrier but it appears that has been overdone to such an extent that the department has decided to shut down on it.

SOCIETY NEWS

The crowd that went frog hunting Thursday night enjoyed a feast last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jet Parker.

The wedding of Miss Bess Bebout and Mr. Horace Williams, formerly of this city, now of Spokane, Wash., occurred last Sunday.

The ladies of the Monday Circle will give a farewell reception for Mrs. Prof. Stewart at the home of Mrs. R. A. Innis, on North Harrison street Monday, August 27th.

Will Brann and Clyde Early will give the annual fair dance this year. It will be given at the Woodmen hall Wednesday night.

Connersville News: Mrs. L. A. Frazee was hostess Friday afternoon at the Pines, to the members of the Cary Club, in honor of Mrs. John Frazee, of Rushville. While the members of the club do not hold their regular meetings through the warm summer months yet they enjoy a reunion once in a while, and perhaps is this especially true if the meeting is held at the Pines, where the guests are given such perfect liberty and they may enjoy the shades of the trees on the lawn during the sultry summer afternoon. The hostess served an excellent collation and a most thoroughly enjoyable time was spent. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. John Frazee, of Rushville; Mrs. F. G. Hornung, of Hamilton, Ohio; Mrs. W. B. Wright, of Rushville; Mrs. L. O. Stockton, of Williamsburg, Ohio, and Miss Nell VanBergen, of Indianapolis.

F. M. Redman's condition was slightly improved today.

James Vance, of North Vernon, formerly of this city, is visiting relatives and friends here.

NO RESISTANCE WAS OFFERED

City Captured By Cuban Rebels Recaptured By Government Troops

In Country Districts Revolution
Gains Many Sympathizers, Cities More Patriotic

Havana, Aug. 25.—A force of government artillerymen under command of Captain Pujol occupied San Juan de Martinez without resistance. This town was taken Aug. 23 by a band of insurgents operating under Pino Guerra. At San Antonio de los Baños, Havana province, and situated twenty-one miles southwest of Havana City, a detachment of rural guards encountered a band of insurgents. Of the latter two were killed, their comrades dispersing.

A letter received here from a reliable correspondent who visited Pino Guerra at San Juan de Martinez, says that the insurgent leader's force amounts to 2,000 men. The correspondent says that all the people in that part of the country are Liberals and sympathizers with the insurrection, but that Guerra has not sufficient ammunition either to take Pinar del Rio or sustain a prolonged fight. The people have plenty of arms but little ammunition, and they have no chance of procuring it. This is believed here to be a correct view of the situation.

Reports from the country districts say that the people generally have been influenced by the Liberal leaders and are inclined to be distrustful of the motives of President Palma's government. Therefore they readily sympathize with the cause of the insurgents. In the cities there is much more approach to genuine patriotism, but the government's offer of $2 per day for all recruits does not meet with more than slow response. Many men are interested in the crisis as onlookers, but a genuine general desire to fight for the government is lacking. Six hundred troops have started by train from Pinar del Rio for San Juan de Martinez.

Word has been received here from Santiago that General Jesus Rabi with 2,000 veterans will come to the Vuelta Abajo to help put down the insurrection. This, however, is not confirmed. The government's extra expenses since Aug. 19 have been $270,000. The critics of the government privately ridicule the plans of the government to bring rapid-fire guns to the island, asserting that the experiences of the Spaniards with these guns in Cuba proved their uselessness in the field. They admit, however, their value for the protection of cities and highways.

The government, it is understood, has sent to Texas to buy 2,000 horses for the army. It has already bought 500 horses here. General Jose Miguel Gomez, at his formal arraignment, denied the allegation that he had engaged in conspiracy against the government. There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the government has begun negotiating with Pino Guerra. More troops will be forwarded to the western districts today.

Ambushed the Recruits.
Havana, Aug. 25.—Colonel Jose Estrampes with forty-five recruits from Havana was fired upon by eighty insurgents ambushed behind a wall near Guines. The recruits were routed and three of them were killed and six wounded.

Worse Than Officially Reported.
Tampa, Fla., Aug. 25.—The steamship Gussie arriving here today from Havana, was loaded to full capacity with tobacco, which is being rushed out of the island by importers. Information received from private sources by this boat state that President Palma is virtually a prisoner in the palace at Havana and that he has not left it for a week. Indications are that the situation on the island is much worse than is known to the outside world. The revolution has also extended into Santa Clara province and has broken out in Matanzas.

Paul and John Bunch, of Tipton, who have been visiting John Logan started home today, but reported that their suit case had been stolen from the L. & O. traction station, but it proved to have been taken by mistake by a lad named Higgins and was returned to them.

William Moorehead, of Chicago, is the guest of Charles Yunker.

A RECORD THAT IS HARD TO BEAT

The St. Paul Telegram mentions a peculiar incident. Elijah Wiley, of near Moscow, Peter Weintraut and a Mr. Shaw were together in St. Paul the other day, and in the conversation that ensued it was discovered that the three of them were fathers of thirty-eight children. Mr. Wiley leads, fourteen of them to his credit, and the others have thirteen each. No race suicide there. Who can beat it?

SEPTEMBER TO BE STORMY

The Weather Prognosticator Arranges to Have an Upheaval
Nearly all of the Month

The weather forecast for September according to the Rev. Hicks, is as follows:

A regular storm period is central on September 1st, extending up to the 4th. The month promises to come in with areas of high temperature, low barometer and storms. A reactionary storm period is central on the 7th and 8th, and this fact, most probably, will cause storms which originate on the 6th, to continue over the 7th and 8th. If higher barometer follows close behind any of the September storm areas, frost will be almost a certainty.

A regular storm period is central on the 12th, and covers the 10th to the 15th. Look for high temperature, low barometer, threatening storm clouds and severe electrical phenomena, centering progressively on the 11th to 14th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 17th, 18th and 19th. This period will carry the earth to the center of the autumnal equinox. It will also inaugurate a series of storms and changes, on land and sea, that will prove clear lines of demarcation between our summer and autumn. During the same period many storms of rain, wind and thunder are apt to visit it parts of the country generally, with a possible tornado here and there.

Another storm period is due on the 23d, running to the 26th. These storms will bring rain, wind and thunder in some parts, with possible sleet and early spurts of snow in the far north. A reactionary disturbance is central on the 29th and 30th, causing low barometer and general change to storm conditions as September goes out.

They say that the gravel is not spread as it should be but left in heaps on the roads and they complain that they are unable to get by in many cases where the road is narrow.

TELEPHONES IN INDIANA

The Increase in Independent
Reports

The Bulletin, just issued by the Indiana Independent Telephone Association, says: "The report of the State Board of Tax Commissioners for 1906, lists 368 telephone companies in Indiana. Of these, 360 are independent and eight are Bell. This is a gain of 55 independent companies over 1905. There are in the State about 75 independent systems—partnerships and individually owned systems—which do not report to the State Tax Board. This makes a total of 435 independent telephone systems in the State.

RUSHVILLE, IND., AUG. 25, 1906

In a speech in the U. S. Senate in 1898 Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks said: "The most casual observer must have perceived the rapid improvement in the commercial interest of the country which followed the enactment of the Dingley law, an improvement which has steadily increased in degree notwithstanding the adverse influence of actual war."

Wouldn't this disgust any citizen who believes in fair play—and who does not? A few weeks ago Democratic papers censured Gov. Hanly because he "meddled" and closed Tom Taggart's gambling joint. [Later they howl because, as they allege, he did not stop illegal liquor selling and gambling at Fort Harrison. As a matter of fact he did have a hand in the stopping of that illegal traffic, and these papers found fault without knowing the facts. But according to Democratic logic, if we may judge from Democratic organs, it is the duty of the governor to permit gambling at French Lick, but to stop gambling and illegal liquor selling at Fort Harrison. These papers should be consistent. Gov. Hanly enforced the State law in each instance. By their unfairness of purpose, these papers have indicted themselves before the reading public as blindly and unreliable partisan and prejudiced.

Carefully compiled statistics of the Indiana Board of State Charities show that during the dark Democratic days of 1896, 82,235 persons appealed for aid and were helped by township trustees. Of these 56,306 were native Americans, and a large per cent. gave for their reason for need of aid, the failure to find employment. Of these 1703 had good trades, and 11,427 were day laborers. The same statistics show only about half the number in 1905 asking for aid—45,333, and only 622 out of the 45,333—a little over one per cent—gave lack of employment as the reason for needing aid. Add to this the fact that all laborers are at work at increased wages, all farmers are selling their products at increased profits, and that savings banks accounts are wonderfully increased, and one has a political argument in favor of the present conditions as against Democratic policies of a few years ago that cannot be gainsaid.

SHALL WE STAND PAT

For Policies of Government Which Gave Us National Prosperity?

DOES NOT MEAN TO STAND STILL

But That We Will Continue to Thrive as a People and a Nation, and Improve Our Laws, and Revise the Tariff From Time to Time as Needed, Along Those Lines Which Have Proven Sound and Wise.

"Stand pat" politically is peculiarly a Republican term. Republican policies when put into practice have proven to be for the country's good.

Our Democratic friends dish up a new "paramount issue" every campaign.

Imagine the Democrats suggesting the country "stand pat" on their policies as carried out in the Wilson bill, which gave us panic and hard times and tramps and free soup-houses.

What a joke it would be if the Democrats should suggest "standing pat" on the recent free silver preachments or the imperialistic fears of eight years ago.

To "stand pat" does not mean for one moment that the Republican party will stand still and regard its work as complete and perfect. Not at all. New anti-trust laws must be passed from time to time as occasion requires, just as the Republican party recently added the rate law to its former anti-trust legislation. Tariff schedules must be revised every once in a while as conditions change. But in its principles of curbing the illegality of trusts, in revising tariff schedules, in appropriating for rural free delivery, and in enacting laws for the good of labor, the Republican party will "stand pat"; for its policies and theories have been tested, and time and experience have proven their wisdom in the bettering of conditions and increasing the opportunities and advantages of the whole people.

Commenting on the splendid past record of achievement of the Republican party, the St. Louis Globe Democrat says that "Republican stump speakers and newspapers will, in 1906, have an easy and pleasant task in setting forth the benefits which the tariff has conferred upon the country. They can point to more prosperity at home than has ever been seen in the past, and can show the largest foreign trade which has ever been rolled up. In the aggregate exports and imports of merchandise the $3,000,000,000 mark has been almost reached. In the fiscal year 1906 the exports aggregated $1,744,000,000 and the imports $1,226,000,000. In each item the highest figures of the past were left far behind. We sold to the outside world double as much merchandise in 1906 as in Cleveland's year just ten years earlier. The balance of trade in our favor, which was $104,000,000 in 1896, was quintupled in 1906, when it reached $518,000,000. If we count silver as merchandise, as we ought to do, although the government's bookkeepers persist in putting it in a class by itself, the $3,000,000,000 mark in the aggregate merchandise exports and imports would be left far behind, and the balance in our favor on the trade account with the outside world would be $557,000,000.

"Exports of manufactures have increased faster than those of any other class of goods which we sent out. While the exports of agriculture have increased 48 per cent in the past ten years, the exports of manufactures have increased 196 per cent. In the fiscal year 1906 we sold over $600,000,000 in manufactures to the rest of the world. Here is the real test of the strength of our industrial system as created by the tariff. At the outbreak of the rebellion the United States was still virtually an agricultural country. Under the operation of the Republican tariff system the United States made such advances in the first twenty years of Republican power that we gained the first place among the countries of the world in the extent of our manufactures by 1880, beating the United Kingdom in that year, and our lead has been steadily lengthening ever since.

"The tariff has been the principal cause of our pre-eminence in this field.

"By the protection which it has given to the home producer, the tariff has incited discovery and invention, constructed labor-saving appliances, developed the capabilities of our people and diversified their activities, caused domestic competition, and while defending the producer against concerted foreign attacks, has reduced the cost and improved the quality of all sorts of commodities to the American consumer.

"These advances have enabled us to reach out farther and farther for foreign markets as the home market has become inadequate, and thus Europe has encountered what it calls the 'American commercial invasion.' The tariff can claim a large share of the credit for these conquests at home and abroad. Manifestly, a system which has revolutionized the whole industrial scheme of the United States, which has given us greater prosperity than was ever known before in any part of the world, and which has placed our country so far in the lead in wealth that it is ahead of its two nearest rivals combined, will have something to say for itself in the canvass of 1906.

"The Republican party, as the creator and the defender of the tariff, will have some powerful arguments ready to its hand in this year's campaign."

A MEASURE OF BRYAN

Former Democrat Senator Gives Utterance to Some Sound Observations.

"Bryan lacks nerve, the Democratic party lacks cohesion and organization. For these reasons Bryan, if elected, and backed up by a Democratic house and senate, will accomplish practically nothing."

This is the opinion of ex-Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, first a Democrat, then a populist, now a Republican. Mr. Butler has a poor opinion of William Jennings Bryan as a doer of things, although he admits his sincerity and honesty. He pointed out what he conceives to be the weak spots of Mr. Bryan as follows:

"I think that if Bryan had been elected president when Roosevelt was elected, and at the same time had a Democratic congress with him, he would have been unable to carry out his promises, although he would have tried to do so. He would have failed on account of the want of cohesion and organization, not to say want of sincerity, in the Democratic house and senate. There is a want of cohesion in the party. When it is in power each man is his own leader, they will not pull together as a unit. They never have, and I do not think they ever will. It has been a party of negation; it is magnificent in kicking and opposing. It is a failure when in power, at producing results.

"The training of the party and the individual members of it has been that of opposition and not of construction. So the fine platitudes have failed to materialize, and always will. This, as I say, is because of the absence of organization, system and unity. The Republican leaders, on the other hand, no matter how widely divergent their views may be, manage to get together and to do things.

MENZIES CALLS QUILTS

Democratic Congressional Aspirant Who Began Campaign of Personal Abuse, Has Had Enough.

Some time ago the word passed the rounds in the Democratic camp down in southern Indiana to make a campaign of personal vilification against Senator Hemenway. "Never mind the fact that he isn't worth $25,000, say he's worth a million, and poison the people against him," was the program.

But the people are a fair judge and they know the facts, and Maj. Menzies has cried "enough," so the story goes, since Senator Hemenway's last speech. Among other things the senator said: "It was the proud record of Indiana congressmen that they always stood with President Roosevelt in bringing about the enforcement of good laws and in enforcing laws heretofore enacted. It was the good fortune of the speaker, while he represented this district in congress, to move on the floor of the house that $500,000 be appropriated with which to prosecute violators of the anti-trust laws, and the president and the attorney general made good use of this money in enforcing the law." Senator Hemenway then passed to the record of Major Menzies, repeating his former declaration that the major had not paid his taxes, in which he said:

Major Menzies a Tax-Dodger.

"I have with me at this very moment a statement from the auditor of Posey county (Major Menzies's home county), and it says that the major has paid his taxes but once in twenty-two years, and it shows that at one time he was delinquent for eighteen years, and at the present time he has paid no taxes for the last seven years. The Evansville Courier misrepresented the facts when it stated that G. V. Menzies had paid his taxes ever since 1898. I have here in my hand a letter from the auditor of Posey county, certified to by the treasurer, which says that the said taxes which the Courier represented as paid by the said G. V. Menzies was his wife's taxes. Once in twenty-two years is all that this valiant soldier has paid. He is a tax-dodger of the first degree. When he runs for congress he is a man of note. He struts around very dignified, but when it comes to paying his taxes he runs and hides his head in a barrel and plays truant.

"Everybody pays their taxes in Posey county but the poverty-stricken, and everybody in this district knows that Major Menzies, the government-trained student, is wealthy. He is the prince of tax-dodgers. We must cast him aside and place a man in the house who pays his taxes and helps to keep up the affairs of the government." Major Menzies drew a salary from the county and then dodged his taxes. Shame on him. He must be defeated at the polls."

Were Close to the People. (Lafayette Courier.)

In a review of the work of the congress that has just closed, one fact stands out pre-eminently and that is that the representatives really represented the people who elected them. This is a hopeful sign and augurs well for the future. For the first time in many years the people have really taken hold of the reins of government and now that they have seen what they can accomplish, they will show no great alacrity in laying them down. The man who aspires to congress this year had as well make up his mind to be the servant of the people in fact as well as in name.

RICE'S ACTION IS EXPLAINED

Former State Auditor Retained $11,000 as Legal Fees.

Indianapolis, Aug. 25.—The discovery was made at the office of the state auditor yesterday that James H. Rice, who was auditor in the 80's, did not retain the "reciprocal fees" from insurance companies, which it seems under a decision of the court he was entitled to keep, but he turned them into the state treasury.

Deputies in the office have figured out just how the Rice shortage came about. The investigating committee in going over Rice's books some time ago discovered that he had retained $11,000 of insurance taxes that belonged to the state. It was found yesterday that this was the amount of "reciprocal fees" which he turned over to the state.

An official of the auditor's office last night said: "I believe this matter is plain enough now. After Rice turned in this $11,000 of fees the court gave a decision in the case of a former state auditor which showed Rice he was entitled to these fees. Then in order to get his money back he retained $11,000 of insurance taxes, believing that he was rightfully entitled to that sum."

A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION

Will Be Made of the Recent Trouble at Fort Brown.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 25.—Ranger Captain McDonald last evening caused the arrest of nine members of Company C, Twenty-fifth Infantry, on the charge of being the principals in the recent raid which resulted in the killing of a citizen and the wounding of the chief of police. After all preparations had been made for the removal of the negro soldiers to Fort Reno, Okla., a cipher message was received by Major Penrose, directing him to hold the three companies here pending the arrival of General Bell, chief of staff, to make a thorough investigation. Consequently there is some perturbation. There is a renewal of the precautions taken to see that none of the blacks enter the town. It has been determined to ask for a special term of court to sit in the cases.

He has issued orders to Public Printer Stillings that hereafter all messages from the president and all other documents emanating from the White House shall be printed in accordance with the recommendation of the spelling reform committee headed by Brander Matthews, professor of English at Columbia university.

No Politics for Them.

Tablequah, I. T., Aug. 25.—The Keweenaw society of Cherokee full-bloods has adjourned after a four-days' meeting near here with a decision to let the politics of the white men alone. Orators openly declared against the Indians taking an active part in the politics of the new state, and pledges were secured from 1,000 full-bloods, who promised not to vote at all. About 3,000 Indians attended the meeting.

Mutinous Soldiers at Odessa.

Odessa, Aug. 25.—The Eleventh and Twelfth sapper battalions, camped at the summer camp Morzovka, near Odessa, mutinied last night. They assembled at a political meeting singing the "Marseillaise," and passed a resolution not to fire on the revolutionists if called upon. Officers of the battalions who tried to break up the meeting were beaten by the soldiers.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT

Czar Determined to Push His Representative Measures to the Limit.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—At a session of the cabinet last evening which lasted several hours, the conclusion was reached that in view of the existing conditions any relaxation in the rigor of the government's policy is utterly out of the question and that it is necessary to continue the battle against the revolutionary forces with all the means at command. It also was decided that the elections for members of parliament should be held on the same date throughout the empire instead of over a period of several weeks, as was the case in the former elections, in order to prevent the opponents of the government concentrating their efforts in various districts in succession.

All the ministers were instructed to prepare and have ready for submission not later than Sept. 14 the projects of necessary legislation which will be divided into two categories—the first, those which are urgent and should be enacted immediately in the form of temporary laws or administrative edicts, and the second such as will require to be polished by the cabinet before submission to parliament when it assembles.

BRISK MIDSUMMER TRADE

All Conditions Continue Favorable, According to Bradstreet's.

New York, August 25.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Fall trade has still further expanded. Buyers are in all leading markets in large numbers and are operating freely despite temporary checks caused by hot or rainy weather. The same is largely true of industrial operations, which go forward with a steadily increasing volume of output and with available capacity in leading lines looked far ahead. This latter condition is perhaps best illustrated by reports from the iron and steel and cotton goods industries, which are in a very strong position with prices tending upward and mills pushed to meet demands for delivery. Retail trade is quiet, the time for shifting to fall displays having arrived, although some jobbers report re-orders for summer goods in excess of supply. Crop reports are still favorable for a record yield of corn, a heavy spring wheat out-turn and a cotton crop next to the largest ever gathered being in sight. Railway tonnage is of enormous volume, the record for August being the best ever attained in that period.

Punished for Sedition.

Mexico City, Aug. 25.—The war department has ordered the imprisonment for one year for commanders and officials of the geographical and exploration commission who sent a message of condolence to Colonel Martin Guzman, recently sentenced to eight years' imprisonment for abuse of authority. The war department regards the message as seditious and weakening to military discipline.

An Extraordinary Requirement.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Four girls have been discharged recently from the Zion City lace factory for failing to obey a rule requiring them to pray during work hours, but to do so on their own time. It has been the custom to deduct from the pay of the girls for the time spent in prayer. Four of their number slighted the "prayer hour" and were dismissed in consequence.

Huge French Forest Fires.

Toulon, France, Aug. 25.—A huge forest fire, which is believed to be the work of incendiaries, is spreading rapidly around this city. All the available troops and bluejackets are strenuously fighting the fire. Three soldiers were surrounded by flames and burnt to death. Six others have disappeared and it is feared that they also have been cut off and perished.

PEOPLES' COLUMN

Under this head we will print short discussions of public questions and timely topics, but the Republic will not be responsible for the opinions expressed—they are the opinions of the writers and not of the Republic. Nothing of a libelous nature or personal reflection will be printed. The writer must confine themselves to the question discussed. While the articles may be signed by a nom de plume, the name of the writer must be signed for identification.

Pick and Shovel

Some men will never hurt themselves at work. They do not need to be cautioned, they are natural-born shirkers, who, if their food had to be swallowed up instead of down, would never come to maturity for lack of energy to obtain nourishment. And right here is where the most serious difficulty is encountered in any effort to ameliorate the conditions of downtrodden humanity; when any effort is made to help men and women out of conditions that are detrimental to manhood and womanhood, the first cry of distress comes from those who have done nothing but cry. This is why I do not believe in communism. If any one tells you "Elijah Hope is a socialist," you may give him this: No power in earth, heaven or hell can make two persons equal who have voluntarily chosen, the one the path of rectitude and the other the path of vice. Alter conditions all you will and still there is a great gulf fixed between virtue and vice. "But," says Pope, "sometimes virtue starves while vice is fed. What then, is the reward of virtue bread?"

It is this last condition that we would like to see altered. Everyone knows that virtue is its own reward, but that virtue should starve while vice is fed is the world's greatest conundrum. So we often see what is commonly called charity going where it does more harm than good. In like manner, labor organizations are retarded in their movements by unprincipled men in their ranks, whose greatest effort is put forth to discover some new plan of living without work. But all this does not prove that there is not a better day coming for the men and women whose work is of a lowly order. If there is anything in the song of the political demagogue when he comes around pouring taffy into the ears of our hard working population, let us discover its true value. When he tells us that Abe Lincoln was a rail splitter, let us be able to remind him that Abe Lincoln split rails to enclose a little plot of ground that he could call his own; and that in that plot of ground was planted and nurtured the individuality that made then, and will make now, the true American gentleman, if not the orator and statesman.

"Dr." Oliver Wendell Holmes has said, "you cannot get elegance sort of two or three removes from the soil." We do not want that kind of elegance in these United States of America. "Dr." Holmes was an autocrat. His writings are one continuous appeal for popularity and if the spirit that is therein contained is carried out in this country, we will have an aristocracy that will make the feudal lords of the middle ages turn over in their tombs for envy. "But," says some one, "where is the danger?" Well here are the dangers; there are two of them. The first one is that we have come to believe that money can do anything; that it is the soul's salvation both here and hereafter. I honestly believe that there are a few scoundrels in the world today who would "side up" to the gate keeper of the eternal city with something like the following ready to deliver off their tongues: "Now, Saint Peter, you know my record down yonder, but there were a lot of us and we had a kind of gentlemen's agreement that we would not tell on one another; some of us were real saintly looking fellows, we superintended Sunday schools, led choirs, acted as chairmen of political committees, and, really now, know that my own record was about as tough as any, but here is a roll of U. S. currency; this money has bought many a seat in the United States senate, and—and—. That money not good here? Why, St. Peter, what do you mean, this money is good in any civilized country on the globe."

Here is the other danger: That we shall have a class growing up among us out of sympathy with the man that toils, young men and women who never soiled their hands with pick and shovel, dish cloth or broom. These are the kind of gentlemen and ladies that this country is not big enough to accommodate.

On the other hand, we have men and women, and sometimes even little children, (read the September number of the Woman's Home Companion) that are worked like horses in a treadmill. To specialize the heavy draft breed of horses may be quite proper, but when it comes to men, we want the "general purpose" every time. Every excess of manual labor or sinful indulgence is a drain upon the mental faculties that makes a man less a man, and a woman less a woman, and the shame of the whole matter is this,

that the victim becomes satisfied with being a mere animal.

Jim, Pat, Mike, George, Jerry, Bill, Frank, Tom, or whatever your name happens to be, let me give you a rule to make the practice of your daily life: When the task of the day is well advanced, or when the muscles have become weary, or when the sun in the western horizon seems to have lodged, stop, for just a few minutes, stop. Do not shirk a rest; that would be contrary to the loyal soul in your bosom—but stop. Straighten up your form to its full height, place both feet firmly upon the earth, throw your shoulders back, your chest out, close your ears to any call to duty that may come from the lips of any "boss," turn your eyes upward and while gazing into the quiet depths of endless space, say "I am a man; I am an American citizen; this life is not all."

If you do not get the inspiration from the first utterance, try again. Probably you have prodded gravel under railroad ties for so long that it is quite difficult to get your anatomy to measure its length up toward the great blue vault that lies beyond the moon and beyond the sun and beyond the stars, but try it once more. Throw that pick down this time, or hand it to the "boss," if you are in the country, get over the fence into that beautiful blue grass pasture, walk away yonder to that little knoll of ground, get a good footing, draw a deep breath, straighten up, up, look up! "I am a man; I am an American citizen; this life is not all."

The London View of It.

London, Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt's decision to adopt the reformed spelling in his messages and in executive correspondence is commented upon by the newspapers of London this morning in anything but a sympathetic spirit. The Standard bluntly declares that the president overrates his powers, adding that it declines to believe that scholarly and cultivated Americans will sacrifice the history and meaning of the language by adopting the "Carnegie jargon." Other of the newspapers deal with the matter in a humorous vein.
